The preceding lists of candidates for degrees are not an official record that such candidates have been awarded such degrees.

CANDIDATE FOR COMMISSION

Commissioning Officer - Lt. Col. Ramon Lopez/Reyes
 Second Lieutenant, United States Army, Infantry
 Daniel Raymond Reedy

Dr. Evan J. Scott

The first professor emeritus at the University of Colorado, Colorado Springs, Dr. Scott's teaching career has been intertwined with the growth and development of the university.

He was the first full-time member of the faculty chosen for UCCS, and has the honor of being the first person named professor on the faculty of the University of Colorado, Colorado Springs.

His memories of this university go back to the early days when classes were offered at Palmer High School in downtown Colorado Springs.

A native of Wisconsin, Dr. Scott obtained his degrees from the University of Wisconsin, culminating in 1947 with his doctorate in philosophy.

His first teaching job was at Colorado College, where he taught from 1947 through 1953. Seeking to teach a broader section of the community than was available at a private college, Dr. Scott joined the faculty at the University of Colorado in 1954 as an assistant professor of English.

He returned to Colorado Springs and to the faculty of the University of Colorado center in 1962, and two years later became a full professor of English. His outstanding career as a teacher for the University of Colorado covered twenty years. He was designated professor emeritus in June 1974, but he still continues to teach an honors course here at UCCS.

THE NORLIN CHARGE TO GRADUATES

(From the baccalaureate address by President George Norlin, of the University of Colorado, June 1935.)

"You are now certified to the world at large as alumni of the University. She is your kindly mother and you her cherished sons and daughters.

"This exercise denotes, not your severance from her, but your union with her. Commencement does not mean, as many wrongly think, the breaking of ties and the beginning of a life apart. Rather it marks your initiation in the fullest sense into the fellowship of the University, as bearers of her torch, as centers of her influence, as promoters of her spirit.

"The University is not the campus, not the buildings on the campus, nor the faculties, not the students of any one time - not one of these or all of them. The University consists of all who come into and go forth from her halls, who are touched by her influence and who carry on her spirit. Wherever you go, the University goes with you. Wherever you are at work there is the University at work.

"What the University purposes to be, what it must always strive to be, is represented on its seal, which is stamped on your diplomas - a lamp in the hands of youth. If its light shine not in you and from you, how great is the darkness! But if it shine in you, today and in the thousands before you, who can measure its power?

"With hope and faith, I welcome you into the fellowship. I bid you farewell only in the sense that I pray you may fare well. You go forth, but not from us. We remain, but not severed from you. God go with you and be with you and us."

ACADEMIC DRESS

The tradition of the academic costume apparently began during the twelfth or thirteenth century in the early European universities. Since the clergy composed the majority of the educated class, academic dress is an adaptation of the cope or mantle which was usually of silk or wool, and worn by church dignitaries in religious processions.

Through the years, great diversity in color and in style of cap, gown and hood developed. In 1896, the colleges and universities in the United States adopted a uniform code governing academic dress. Today, the black gown, hood, and mortar board worn by the graduates in most institutions follow this code.

While it is not apparent to the casual observer, the gowns worn by the recipients of the various degrees vary somewhat in design. The sleeves of the gown worn by the baccalaureate candidate are long and pointed, while the sleeves of the gown worn by the master's degree recipient are square at one end with a slit at the elbow. The doctor's gown has flowing sleeves with three bars of velvet, and a facing of velvet down the front of the gown.

Those who receive a master's or a doctor's degree from the University of Colorado wear hoods lined with the school colors, silver and gold. The hood worn by the doctor's candidate differs in design from that of the master's as it has side panels and is slightly longer. The velvet border of the hood indicated the degree and usually follows the same code as the color of the tassels.

The oxford cap, usually referred to as a mortar board, is black and has a long tassel which is fastened by a button on the top. Candidates for the baccalaureate degree wear the tassel pendant over the right front of the cap before the degree is conferred, then it is worn on the left side.

Acknowledgement

The University of Colorado, Colorado Springs, expresses its gratitude to the Pikes Peak Musicians Association, Local 154, American Federation of Musicians for contributing the music for today's program. The performance is by the Aeolian String Quartet. Members of the quartet are: Francis Kramer, first violin; Ingri Fowler, second violin; Helen Salmann, viola, and Wanda Ashley, cello.
